As the State of Kuwait celebrates the 48th anniversary of its independence, I would like to express the profound gratitude of the Japanese national and international community toward the Kuwaiti people for their long-term historical contribution to the development of peace and stability in the region.

Kuwait has been a steadfast partner of Japan since the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two nations in 1960. In the past five decades, the bilateral relationship between Kuwait and Japan has been strengthened further with the establishment of the Japan-Kuwait Society in 1981. This society has played a significant role in promoting cultural and educational exchanges, and has contributed greatly to the development of shared values and understanding between the two peoples.

The Japanese community in Kuwait, led by the Kuwaiti ambassador His Excellency Mohammed Al-Khalaf, has contributed significantly to the development of the bilateral relationship through its active participation in various cultural and educational activities. The Embassy of Japan in Kuwait also plays a crucial role in promoting cultural exchanges and understanding between the two nations.

I am pleased to note that the Japanese government and private sectors have provided significant support to the enhancement of the bilateral relationship. This support has been manifested through the establishment of various projects and initiatives, including the Japan-Kuwait Environment Public Authority, which has been instrumental in promoting sustainable development and environmental conservation in Kuwait.

Japan is proud to have been a partner in the development of Kuwait, and we will continue to support the country in its efforts to achieve sustainable development and economic growth. We will also continue to promote cultural and educational exchanges to further strengthen the ties between the two nations.

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to the Kuwaiti people for their contribution to the development of peace and stability in the region. I also wish to express my appreciation to the Japanese community in Kuwait for their continued support and cooperation.

I hope that the future will bring new opportunities for cooperation and partnership between Kuwait and Japan, and I look forward to a bright future for our two nations.

Yasuaki Amari
Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of Japan in Kuwait
